PLAN TO BUILD FACTORY SOON

Members of the Local Company Will Make First of Series of Trips
Wednesday.

WILL VISIT McDOUGAL PLANT

Factory Site is Ready For Occupancy at Any Time--Warder Wyatt Admitted to Firm.

Not many weeks will pass before work will be started on the new fifty thousand dollar furniture factory which is to be located on the Stewart-Tompkins addition to the Belmont addition to Rushville, which is the result of the sale of 115 lots in the addition in the last week. The company of local men is making arrangements to visit other factories in the Middle West to get ideas for the erection of their own factory.

A committee from the company will go to Frankfort Wednesday to visit the McDougal Kitchen Cabinet company's factory and view it from top to bottom. It will be remembered that the McDougal factory burned down in Indianapolis and that it was located in Frankfort after a big bonus had been raised there. The factory is modern in every respect since it was built only recently and has all of the latest improvements.

The Wednesday's trip will be only the first of a series which will be made in order to get ideas of the latest and modern means that are used in building furniture factories. The particular line or lines which will be manufactured by the local company has not been exactly decided on as yet. It is certain, however, that their factory will be in accordance with all of the twentieth century methods which are employed in building an up-to-date factory.

Although the Stewart-Tompkins addition may not be platted so that lot buyers can take possession for a few months, arrangements have been made so that the factory site is available for use at once. It was agreed that Mr. Bowen would be allowed to harvest his crops but a special agreement was made so that the plat of ground where the factory will be located may be used at once. The company will experience no delay from that source.

The members of the company are well fitted for the manufacturing business. Charles Baker has been interested in the manufacture of furniture most of his life and has a wide experience in that line of work. Robert L. Tompkins, since he has been associated with the Pinell-Tompkins company as manager, has gained a wide knowledge of the furniture business and is fully capable of taking an active interest in the business.

The other members of the original company, William E. Havens, A. L. Riggs, Guy Abercrombie and A. L. Stewart are all well known business men here who have made a success in their various lines of business.

A meeting of the stockholders was held yesterday afternoon about four o'clock, when it was decided to admit Warder Wyatt of the George C. Wyatt & Company firm, furniture dealers and undertakers. Mr. Wyatt has been actively engaged in the retail furniture business for a number of years and has gained a valuable experience which will be worth much in the manufacturing business.

THE WEATHER

Generally fair tonight and Sunday and slightly warmer tonight.

SURPRISE THEIR TEACHER

Patrons of School No. 7 Hold Closing Exercises of Year.

The patrons of school No. 7 in Walker township very pleasantly surprised the teacher, D. O. Alter, yesterday, the occasion being the closing of the school year. An old-fashioned spelling "bee" was held during the entire afternoon and much merriment was evoked from that source. The people who came to the school brought large baskets and a big chicken dinner was hugely enjoyed. There were sixty-four in attendance at the farewell given to the popular teacher.

LODGEMEN INVADE TOWN OF MILROY

Over Two Hundred Odd Fellows From Surrounding Towns and Cities
Enjoy Big Banquet.

LOCAL DEGREE TEAM WORKS

Milroy was all Odd Fellows last night as over two hundred members of that secret order gathered there for the initiation of a large class. Members of Franklin Lodge No. 35 of this city were very numerous as many besides the degree team attended the work and the big banquet which was the feature of the evening. The degree team from the local lodge initiated several candidates in the first degree. The teams from the lodge at Adams, Decatur county, initiated candidates in the second degree. Delegates and members of lodges from the following cities and towns were present for the occasion: Homer, Blue Ridge, Connersville, Sandusky, Brookville, Greensburg, Shelbyville and Rushville.

BOAR ATTACKS YOUNG FARMER

Enraged Male Hog Wounds John
Frazier With Tushes on Farm Near Milroy.

THE ATTACK WAS UNEXPECTED

John Frazier, a well known young farmer living two miles north of Milroy, was attacked by a mad boar early this morning and painfully although not seriously injured. The boar's scissors-like tushes tore a gash in the young farmer's right leg which required seven stitches to close.

Mr. Frazier has never had any trouble with the boar. The male hog has always seemed very docile and never before offered to fight him. Mr. Frazier has been accustomed to feed the hogs before turning it into the lot. This morning he did it as usual and as the boar went through the gate into the lot, he gave it a little kick in the side. The boar turned on him viciously and jabbed his right leg just once with his sharp tushes, making ugly wounds both above and below the knee. After the one rush, the boar walked quietly out into the lot and did not offer to fight Frazier more. The farmer says that he would have been totally helpless if the enraged hog had continued its attack as it is likely whether or not he could have escaped before he was seriously hurt as the attack was so sudden and unexpected.

THREE FIRMS TO CHANGE PLACES

William B. Poe & Son Buy Stock of Sam Finney and Will Occupy
That Room.

WILL MOVE ABOUT JUNE 1

Kennard Jewelry Store Will Locate
in Room Now Held by Farmers Trust Co.

Several important changes in the location of a number of Rushville firms will take place in the near future. Three business houses will be affected by the various moves and the location of a saloon in Main street will change the business district materially.

William B. Poe & Son yesterday bought the stock of Sam Finney and will move to the commercial block about the first of June. Mr. Poe sold the Finney stock of bicycles and supplies to John Whitlock. The Poe jewelry store has been located in their present room about fourteen years, coming there after the post-office had been moved to the Havens room in west Second street. The Farmers Trust Company had previously purchased the building where the jewelry store now is which necessitated their moving. Several improvements will be made in the Finney room among which will be a new front. Mr. Finney, who is agent for the American express company has made no definite arrangements as to where his office will be.

The Farmers Trust company will be located in the present jewelry store room after June 1. They will also make some improvements and will have a modern banking house.

John Kennard has bought the building at the corner of Main and Third streets now occupied by the Trust company and will locate his jewelry store there. In the Tyner room where the Kennard store now is, James Smith will open his saloon.

It has been known for some time that the changes would be made but the new location of the Poe store was in doubt since they were to be the first to move. The Peoples Gas Company which now has their office with the Poe firm as does A. P. Wagoner, the piano dealer, will also move with the jewelry store to its new location.

LIEUT. GOV. HALL SPOKE

Made Brief Talk at Shelbyville Attorneys' Annual Affair.

Lieutenant Governor Frank J. Hall and Will M. Sparks of this city attended the annual banquet of the Shelby County Bar Association in Shelbyville last night. Mr. Hall made a brief talk on the subject "Law Making," that being a particularly appropriate one since he has passed through two strenuous sessions of the legislature as president of the upper house. The main address of the evening was made by Henry M. Dowling of Indianapolis.

OPENING OF HOSPITAL.

The State tuberculosis hospital at Rockville is to be formally opened for occupancy tomorrow, according to a proclamation issued by the governor. The trustees of the institution expect to begin to receive patients on Saturday, April 1.

At a recent gem exhibition in London there were shown blue, pink and aquamarine diamonds.

FOUNDRY WANTS NEW LOCATION

Bertsch Concern of Cambridge City Might Consider Rushville Place
to Move.

QUARTERS ARE CRAMPED NOW

Factory Determines to Make Change
on Account of Chinese Wall Around Place.

Rushville has an opportunity to locate the Bertsch foundry of Cambridge and the members of the industrial organization of Rushville would do well by giving the industry some consideration. Most every city in this section of the State would like to have the foundry within its confines as it is a thriving institution and would bring in much revenue to any city. Richmond has been making an effort to locate the factory, so it is said and New Castle has been looking longingly in that direction.

According to the New Castle Courier, the concern has determined to make a change on account of the "Chinese wall" recently built by the Pennsylvania, which makes it very difficult for them to get material into the factory and the finished product out. They are also cut out of switching facilities and the situation is a serious one for the Bertsch people.

Rushville, no doubt, could make a strong bid for the factory and it is very likely that suitable terms could be arranged. It is understood that the factory owners now ask much as a bonus to locate, but it is thought that they would consider a change to any city for a less amount. The great advantage to the Bertschs is the fact that it has been located in this vicinity for many years and is well known to many local men as a first class concern.

The foundry has been in operation over twenty-seven years and has never been shut down a single day. The concern does business all over the world and makes a specialty of big shears such as are used in rolling and tin mills.

The plant is at present working about eighty men and would employ more if they had room to spread out and take care of the business that comes to them. Recently many hand-some orders have been turned down because they could not be turned out by the time specified.

The Bertsch people want a foundry that will accommodate 200 men at the start, with the idea of increasing their force to 300 in time. This they can not do in Cambridge City and have caused it to become known that they are seeking a new location. Since the announcement they have received a score of offers.

In the first place they do not want to move far from Cambridge City for the reason that when the move is made they will want to take with them practically all of their present force. They are old reliable and skilled men and are willing to move. The Bertsch people feel the expense of moving families, under such a circumstance, should be paid by the concern. Therefore they do not care to move very far.

FINED IN MAYOR'S COURT.

Emmanuel Dinwiddie was arrested late yesterday afternoon by Policeman Wolters charged with being drunk. Dinwiddie had started for home but could go no farther than the Havens school building. He appeared before Mayor Black last night and pleaded guilty. He was fined one dollar and costs which he was unable to pay.

CENSUS NOT READY YET

Bureau Director Writes That Information is Not Available.

Rushville is not to get its census yet for a time, according to word received here today from E. Dana Durand, director of the United States Bureau at Washington, D. C. The communication was in reply to a letter from the Daily Republican in which it was stated that the desired information was not available at the present time and that it would be sent here immediately as soon as it is known. It will be remembered that the census bureau placed Rushville's population below the five thousand mark, when the population of all of the cities in Indiana with more than five thousand were announced.

STONE QUARRIES TO BE ENLARGED

American Mechanist Magazine Says That Boom is in Sight For County-Line Town.

NEW COMPANY TO BUY PLANT

A business boom is said to be in store for the county-line town of St. Paul, and the medium of same promises to be the big quarries there, says the Greensburg News. In the last edition of the American Mechanist, published in Chicago, appeared an article stating that the St. Paul Stone Quarries Company would soon start to enlarge their plant and start doing business on an altogether larger scale.

Since then it has been learned that the company is about to sell its plant to a number of capitalists, who will do the enlarging and operate the quarry. It is the intention to place new machinery in the quarry and operate it as far as possible by the machines. The stone will be finished by sawing instead of the cutters and they in this way expect to do a large business. It is said that about seventy-five men will be employed and after a few weeks this number will be increased to one hundred and fifty.

POSTOFFICE DOES THRIVING BUSINESS

Receipts For Fiscal Year, Ending
Yesterday Amount to $16,449.02
--Largest Ever Enjoyed.

INCREASE OF $832.90 IN YEAR

It is encouraging to note that with the closing of the fiscal year at the postoffice, it is announced that the receipts of the office have increased by a large amount of money. The increase in business this year over last year amounts to $832.90. This year's receipts totaled $16,449.02, which is the best year's business that the local postoffice has ever enjoyed. Last year was the best year for receipts up to that time when the business amounted to $15,617.12. The post-office receipts are a fair criterion from which to judge the financial condition of the city and county. It is apparent that business houses as well as Rushville people are prosperous and that the population of Rushville has decreased very little, if any at all, since there has been no noticeable falling off at the postoffice, but rather a substantial gain.

WIRED PURSE FOOLS MANY

Fat Pocketbook on Sidewalk Causes Many Saturday Shoppers to
"Fall For" Joke.

MANY ALL FOOLS' DAY PRANKS

"Pat" Gilligan and John Mausner Engage in Merry Race For the Fancied Treasure.

A nice fat pocketbook, tightly wired to the grating on the sidewalk in front of the G. P. Hunt hardware store today, caused more merriment than all of the jokes that were perpetrated on this day--the day when fools are abroad. The work of fastening the pocketbook to the grating was so neatly done that it took the closest inspection to see that it was a trick.

Men, old and young alike, women, all sizes and descriptions, and practically every child that passed the hardware store, "fell for" the April fool day prank. Many humorous incidents were enacted, when pedestrians carefully stepped over and tugged away at the tightly secured pocketbook.

"Pat" Gilligan and John Mausner were among the first to "take the bait" and carry it away this morning. John and "Pat" were meandering down Second street, when both espied the treasure at the same time. Then came a mad rush for the fancied fortune. John and "Pat" lowered their heads and literally dove at the pocketbook. But each one was so anxious to get there first that they both resorted to football tactics and hit the line low and hard. "Pat" proved to be the best on the offensive play and John was bowled over against the pile of brick at the edge of the sidewalk. Then it suddenly dawned on John that this was April fools' day and he laughed heartily at "Pat."

A well known business man saw a "victim" of the wired pocketbook tug for fully a minute in a vain attempt to loosen it, and then came back in a few minutes and tried the same thing himself. He bought the cigars.

Several women shoppers, their curiosity aroused by the little inoffensive pocketbook, tried to pull it loose from the grating this afternoon.

The usual all fool's day tactics were used today, "wood" candy and "bitter sweets" being common.

ANSWERED ONLY ONE ALARM

Eight Marriage Licenses Were Issued
During Month of March.

The month of March was very quiet with the fire department, only one alarm being sent in and that proved to be false. The company was called out last Sunday evening to the box at Third and Jackson streets. During the past month the county clerk issued eight marriage licenses. For the same month last year 14 were issued.

GLENWOOD SCHOOL CLOSES.

The Glenwood schools closed yesterday and the occasion was fittingly observed with a surprise for the teachers and principal of the school. An excellent program was given and a big dinner was served. ## APRIL WEATHER IS TO BE FICKLE

Hicks, the Predictor, Says it Will be Milder Than Ever and Always Rainy.

WILL START WITH BIG STORM

Wind and Thunder Will be Common With Violent Electrical and Magnetic Manifestations.

There is going to be a rainy time in April. There will be numerous showers, many of them accompanied by electrical displays. So says prophet Hicks, who assures you that a reactionary storm period is in progress as we pass from March into April. Storms of rain, wind and thunder will culminate on and touching Sunday, the second, winding up with possible snow in northern extremes. Rising barometer, fair weather and frosty nights will visit most parts of the country between the second and fifth. A seismic period, which is central on March 30, will reach three or four days into April.

A regular storm period covers the 4th to the 8th, having its center on the 6th. Falling barometer, change to much warmer, with growing cloudiness and storms will begin in the west by the 4th and 5th. During the 6th to 8th, storms of rain, wind and thunder will make their transit from west to east touching most parts of the country. These storms will be in the form of heavy April showers, breaking into severe thunder squalls and hail storms in many localities. Fair weather and cool nights, with possible frosts northward will follow these storms.

A reactionary storm period marks the closing days of the earth's vernal and equinoctial, central on the 11th, 12th and 13th. Low barometer and very high temperature on and touching the 11th and 12 will bring severe thunder, rain and hail to many sections. Hot, muggy conditions, with very low barometer and angry electrical clouds should be admonitions of tornadoes at this period. This is also a period in which seismic disturbances will be heard from, say within three days of Thursday, the 13th.

A regular storm period extends from the 16th to the 21st. We will designate the 18th, 19th and 20th as the crisis of this period. On and touching these dates, expect many active April storms and squalls attended by hail and followed by a change to much colder. Not only this period, but the entire month of April as may be seen by the storm chart, seems exceptionally free from great and general disturbances, but the storm periods will bring normal and regular phenomena such as are common to this season of the year.

A reactionary storm period has its center on the 24th and 25th, on and about which dates the barometer will fall, and threatening weather will appear. This period will, most likely, not react into high barometer and general anti-storm conditions, but run into a series of daily April showers, over most parts of the country, reaching into the next storm period.

A regular storm period is central on the 29th, extending from the 26th to May 3d. Violent electrical and magnetic manifestations in earth currents, auroral lights, electrical storms, volcanic unrest and earthquakes will reach maximum disturbances within and about April 25th. The total phase of the sun's eclipse on April 28th will fall in the southern hemisphere, hence the seismic disturbances will be more general and severe in that part of the globe. But the apposition of Jupiter, and the conjunction of Saturn within two hours of each other on the 30th, together with the perihelion of Venus on the 29th, will create a seismic strain that will be felt severely all around the globe.

DRASTIC ACTION AT WASHINGTON

Sweeping Shift in Railway
Mail Service.

HITCHCOCK SWINGS THE AX

Postmaster General Complains That His Subordinates Have Failed to Co-operate in His Economy Plans, and Some of Most Important Officers, From General Superintendent Down, Feel Weight of His Displeasure.

Washington, April 1.—A shift in the railway mail service has been ordered by Postmaster General Hitchcock. Several of the most important officers of the service, including the general superintendent, are demoted. This drastic action was taken by the postmaster general because he believed that his subordinates had failed to co-operate with him in his economy plans, and in orders for the improvement of the service. Alexander Grant, the general superintendent of the service, is sent from Washington to St. Paul as superintendent of a division. The place of general superintendent will be filled by Theodore Ingalls, who up to this time has been superintendent of the division of rural mails.

G. C. Thompson, formerly superintendent of the division of the supply of the postoffice department, and now inspector in charge at Austin, Tex., will succeed Mr. Ingalls as superintendent of the division of rural mails. Charles B. Anderson, inspector in charge at St. Louis, has been shifted to Austin, to take the place left vacant by the promotion of Thompson, and Inspector George Daniel of the New York division has been promoted to the post of inspector in charge at St. Louis.

Besides the general superintendent of the railroad mail service the superintendent of the Washington division service, Charles W. Vickery, also is demoted, becoming chief clerk of the railway mail service in the Cincinnati division. Norman Perkins, railway mail superintendent at St. Paul, has been promoted to the superintendency left vacant by the transfer of Mr. Vickery.

Charles Rager, superintendent of the Cincinnati division of the railway mail service, has been sent to Atlanta to serve as chief clerk in place of John F. Blodgett, who is removed. Clyde M. Reed, division superintendent at Cleveland, takes Rager's place as superintendent of the Cincinnati division, and J. C. Coons, postoffice inspector in the Washington division, is promoted to be superintendent of the railway mail service at Cleveland.

NOT QUIETING DOWN

There Is Nothing to Indicate Early Peace in Mexico.

San Antonio, Tex., April 1.—Delayed advices from the City of Mexico received here, coupled with new and authentic reports of fresh disorders in the border states of the southern republic, confirm the belief that the optimistic hopes for peace in Mexico which were expressed in many quarters and by representatives of both disputants a few days ago, have been superseded by very decided indications of continued warfare, and the spread of the revolution very near the heart of the Mexican government. It is said that there is no intention on the part of Diaz and his new circle of advisors to deviate from the principle of refusing to treat with rebels under arms. The government realizes that even should it consent to enter into peace negotiations with the Maderos, that would not guarantee a successful termination of hostilities because of the fact that the army of Madero has nothing in common with the scattered bands of rebels in Tepic, in Yucatan and portions of Durango. There are a dozen leaders of as many scattered bands throughout the length and breadth of Mexico, and each is working independently with one or more side issues besides the downfall of Diaz to be accomplished.

MENACE TO SAFETY

That Is What This Town Board Declares the Hobbie Skirt to Be.

South Bend, Ind., April 1.—Miss Frances Walters, living just across the state line at Buchanan, Mich., caused the town board to put a ban on the hobbie skirt by the passage of an ordinance forbidding its appearance on the street. Miss Walters had been in the postoffice and tripped in leaving the building, owing to the tight-fitting skirt. In her struggles to regain her feet the young woman frightened a team of oxen hitched in front of the building. The animals dashed madly down the street and broke the windows of three stores before they were finally captured.

Big Battle Loss Denied.

El Paso, Tex., April 1.—After fighting for three days the loss of the federals and insurgents in the vicinity of Ures and San Rafael is not over a hundred dead. Two hundred cover the dead, wounded and the prisoners taken on each side. Reports sent out from Nogales declaring that a thousand had been killed were greatly exaggerated, as considerably less than 2,000 men were engaged.

HAIR DROPS OUT

Many People Have a Simple Way of Stopping It.

It was Dr. Sangerbund of Paris who first discovered that dandruff and falling hair were caused by microbes.

And now that Parisian Sage, the remedy that kills the dandruff germ is sold in every town in America, the clean people of this country have awakened to the fact that dandruff is unnecessary; that falling hair and itching scalp can be quickly stopped, and that people who use Parisian Sage will never grow bald.

To every reader of the Daily Republican who wishes to eradicate disgusting dandruff, stop falling hair, and have immaculately clean scalp, free from itchiness, we make this offer:

F. B. Johnson & Co., will return your money, without red tape, if Parisian Sage does not banish dandruff, stop itching scalp in two weeks.

Parisian Sage is sold by F. B. Johnson & Co., and druggists everywhere, for 50 cents a large bottle. It is an ideal, daintily perfumed hair-dressing, free from grease and stickiness, and will cause hair to grow lustrous and luxuriant. Mail orders filled, charges prepaid, by Giroux Mfg. ## THEY HAD TO SHELVE SHEEHAN

Original Candidate of the Party Having Been Found a Hopeless Prospect, Justice O'Gorman, Former Grand Sachem of Tammany, Was Picked on as Being Satisfactory to Both Tammany and the Insurgents.

Albany, N. Y., April 1.—In place of Chauncey M. Depew, James A. O'Gorman, a supreme justice for New York county, was elected the Democratic United States senator last evening. Senator O'Gorman received 112 votes, while Mr. Depew received 80. Necessary to a choice, 97.

The nomination and election of O'Gorman was brought about by the power of Charles F. Murphy and Francis Lynde Stetson. Senator O'Gorman could not have been nominated or elected without the insurgent vote, which was largely controlled by Mr. Stetson, nor could he have been nominated or elected without the vote which was largely controlled by Charles F. Murphy. Two weeks ago Mr. Stetson made it known to his personal friends that O'Gorman would be perfectly satisfactory to him and his friends as the compromise candidate for United States senator. Murphy on Tuesday first took up the consideration of O'Gorman's name. After Murphy deserted W. F. Sheehan, he discussed the availability of Daniel F. Cohalan, but Mr. Stetson and his friends made it known that inasmuch as they would not accept Sheehan, neither would they accept Cohalan.

At the joint caucus Senator Wagner presided. Senator Fiero introduced a resolution by which Mr. Sheehan was to be made the candidate for the second joint caucus, just as he had been the nominee for the first joint caucus. Senator Ferrit opposed Senator Fiero and moved that the Sheehan resolution be laid on the table, so that further time should be given for consultation with the insurgents. Senator Fiero replied that he would withdraw the resolutions temporarily. Then the joint caucus was adjourned until 4 p. m., with the understanding that the joint assembly ballot would be taken an hour or two later.

All hustled back to the Hotel Ten Eyck. Here was a scene of very great activity. About every long-distance telephone wire to New York city was humming. Mr. Murphy had a consultation with several senators who were delegated to visit the insurgents who still remained with Senator Roosevelt at Mr. Roosevelt's home.

After much discussion a vote was taken on the question of endorsing Justice O'Gorman, and there were but nine votes in favor of eleven against such endorsement. It was at this point that the insurgents insisted that they be given assurances that they would not be persecuted or punished for their insurgency. Later when these assurances were given, a second vote showed that fifteen of the insurgents favored Justice O'Gorman, while only five were opposed to him. These five then agreed to make the endorsement of Justice O'Gorman by the insurgents unanimous. By this time it was 5 o'clock. The joint caucus had assembled. But it was not until nearly 6 o'clock that the way was clear for action. Senator Wagner again presided. Senator Fiero renewed his motion that the action of the first caucus in nominating Sheehan for senator be repeated. This was defeated and on the second ballot O'Gorman was selected. The vote was: O'Gorman, 73; Sheehan, 23; Herrick, 4; Parker, 1; Sulzer, 1; White, 1; Straus, 5; Kernan, 4. On joint ballot O'Gorman was given the full Democratic vote.

James Aloysius O'Gorman was born in New York city, and it was there that he took his first lessons in politics. He went to the College of the City of New York and to the New York university law school, where he received his LL.D. in 1882, when he was twenty-two years old.

He had interested himself in the politics of his district while he was still a student. When he had barely reached his majority he was chairman of the Tammany committee in the election district of the old Seventeenth, where he lived. His law practice went hand in hand with his work in politics. In 1893, partly through the influence of Richard Croker, he was made justice of the district court of New York. He held this position until 1900, when he was made supreme court justice.

It was while he was a justice of the supreme court that he was elected grand sachem of Tammany Hall. He succeeded Lewis Nixon, who had become grand sachem after the nominal retirement of Richard Croker. Justice O'Gorman's election was regarded as a perpetuation of the Croker influence. He remained grand sachem of Tammany until the fall of 1905. Then he resigned, and in December W. Bourke Cockran was chosen as his successor. He was married when he was twenty-three years old to Anne M. Leslie of New York. They have seven daughters and four sons. Justice O'Gorman has interested himself largely in Irish affairs here and in Ireland. He is fifty years old.

DISCUSSING FORESTRY TODAY

Incidental to the Meeting of the Southern Indiana Teachers' Association, a Meeting Is Being Held Today For the Purpose of Urging Upon Teachers the Importance of the Observance of Arbor Day.

Indianapolis, April 1.—With a business meeting at Tomlinson hall the spring meeting of the Southern Indiana Teachers' association closed this morning. The meeting has been successful and interesting, the enrollment reaching above the 2,500 mark. A special program in behalf of forestry work is being presented this afternoon in the Claypool hotel assembly room, the teachers being urged to give larger attention to the observance of Arbor day in the state.

Recent tendencies along educational lines were discussed by Harold Barnes in his inaugural address as president of the association. One of the tendencies now in the air, he said, was to give the bright pupil a chance. Too much attention, he thought, had been given in the past to the development of the dull and backward pupil to the detriment of the bright pupil.

"Children who show a low scale of work have received a large share of the attention of the schools," he said. "How about the children who make the high grades? Shall we wrap up their talents in an educational napkin and hide them away?" It was the exception, he said, when the capable pupil received a rightful share of attention.

Mr. Barnes was not inclined to join the cry that there were too many "fads and fancies" in the schools. He said it was not often that a study was placed in the schoolroom without a great demand for it from the outside. New ideas were sometimes adopted in schools, he said, before some communities were prepared for the ideas, but it did not follow that the ideas were wrong. Studies in the schools should be adapted to local needs and conditions, he believed, and there was great need for "efficiency engineers" to study the needs of particular schools and to "weed" out all unnecessary work. Up-to-date teaching, he said, was along the lines of directing the pupils how to think and how to study rather than to force on them a mass of facts. What the schools need, he said, was less tearing down of ideas and more building up.

R. I. Hamilton of Vincennes, the retiring president of the association, said the last year had been a prosperous one in educational work. "While the legislature did not do all it was asked to do for the benefit of education, it did much good and nothing that was bad," he said. The educational outlook was brighter than ever before, he said, and teaching was being lifted from a vocation to the plane of a profession.

AUTHORITIES CLASH

The Question of School Age Is to Be Taken Into Court.

Jeffersonville, Ind., April 1.—When is a schoolboy old enough to leave school is a question that is puzzling local officers. The son of James Smith of Charlestown is past fourteen years old. The father says the boy may stay out of school. W. F. Boyer, truant officer, arrested Smith, arguing that the boy must be fifteen years old before he is free from the law's compulsion. Another authority finds that the child must attend school until his fifteenth birthday, and counting the day of birth as one birthday, he holds that the end of the fourteenth year is the fifteenth birthday. The matter will be argued before Justice James S. Keigwin.

YOUTHFUL "SPARKERS"

Are Given No Encouragement in Church Resolutions.

Terre Haute, Ind., April 1.—A resolution condemning the practice of boys and girls under sixteen years in "keeping company" has been passed by the congregation of the Third United Brethren church. After reciting that the moral and legal code in granting divorce requires a forward step, the resolution says:

"Resolved, That we think it unwise and hurtful for boys and girls under sixteen years of age to keep company together. We deem it hurtful to their education and subversive to their usefulness in every good thing. We call upon all ministers and school teachers to join this forward movement."

Boy Fell Under Wagon.

Evansville, Ind., April 1.—Walter Gerlach's head was crushed by a farm wagon at Cypress. The boy, showing off a pony on which he rode, circled the wagon that his mother was driving. She called to the boy to be careful, and he stopped short in the path of a span of mules. The tongue of the wagon knocked him off the pony and he fell in the path of the heavy vehicle, his head being crushed before Mrs. Gerlach could stop the wagon.

Republican St. Louis is getting ready to send the country another
"show-me" message.

Even on a peace footing an American soldier or sailor can count on seeing a good deal of the world.

Kansas promises a wheat crop of 60,000,000 bushels. That is the kind of politics to oppose to hysterical tendencies.

Missouri has been shown at last that Bourbon legislature move only in one direction, and that is from bad to worse.

Good hits at a range of five miles would show Uncle Sam's sailor to be second to nobody in the world shooting match.

There is another opportunity for the prophets of evil the fruit orchards, and also, we fear, for the fulfillment of many of their prophecies.

The St. Louis girls are using the harem skirts for roller-skating purposes. In fact, the harem skirt seems to be cut out for just such uses, and to fit in well with roller skating.

The result of local option elections held in Indiana yesterday show a big gain for the "wets" in the cities, while the outlying townships with but a few exceptions voted "dry."

The above is the opening statement in an editorial which appeared in the Indianapolis Star one day this week. That plain statement is false as it is stated and can not be found to contain one iota of truth unless it is qualified. It is true that there is a gain, but it is not in "wet" votes. It is in the number of saloons which will be opened up in Indiana and the result of Senator Procter's law. There is nothing in the results of the local option election of the State this week to show that the liquor forces gained over the elections under the county option law two years ago.

Let us look at the result of the elections over the State this week and then determine whether or not the "wets" have gained. Cities went "wet" almost every place that an election was held but it is well to remember that the vote for the saloons was estimated to be much smaller than it was two years ago, when the whole county voted and the city element could not overcome the rural vote which is decidedly opposed to saloons and which is becoming more so each succeeding year.

It is also worthy of mention that many of the "dry" majorities in the small towns and townships were made in very sparsely settled districts, showing that the sentiment was overwhelmingly in favor of "dry" conditions.

It is not the change in sentiment that caused the saloons to be fostered on communities that did not want them, but the fact that Governor Marshall and his "wet" legislation disfranchised a majority of the voters in Indiana in order that a special interest might enrich itself on Indiana's sons. Every victory of the liquor forces is only another rivet to closely enjoin the solid phalanx of coters that will send the party that perpetrated the wrong to perdition.

EDITORIALETTES.

Even New Castle likes the Rushville plan for screenless saloon towns.

It might be of interest here to know that Shelby county has a Moral township. It is, however located out on the county line, far removed from Shelbyville.

And perhaps that gas oozing out of the ground north of the city has something to do with Rushville's recent boom.

A lot of women were out today trying to strike a bargain for a brain weight.

You didn't see the "harems" skirt yesterday? You missed a lot.

If it is of any interest to you, we might use this column to convey the information that the Indianapolis police force have resolved not to stop spooning in the city parks. That ought to increase the Sunday excusion crowds this summer.

We respectfully refer you to Earl Osborne and Elmer Readle as the only original April fool joksters.

Passing on hastily to the next stage we desire to mention briefly that there is still some ope held out for the recovery of that old time friend and fellow citizen, "Clean-up Day."

SPONGE GROWS.

The postoffice force is displaying what is alleged to be a freak of nature if it may be called that. The employees assert that they have a growing sponge. Slender green tendrils have shot up from the bottom of the sponge and peep their heads up through the porous matter.
The sponge rests in a glass receptacle where it has been kept for many months. The green tendrils have roots and resemble a plant that grows in the ground. The postoffice men aver that it is natural but it is naturally supposed that they placed some kind of seed in the bottom of the glass, which caused the growth, regardless of what they say.

NO CIRCUS ANNOUNCED.

circus is billed for Indianapolis next month. There was a circus here last summer and it is very likely that Rushville will not be on the show map
this summer.

AMUSEMENTS

The Star Grand will have a complete change of program tonight.

The first picture at the Palace for tonight will be a Selig film, "The Man From the East." It is a drama of Western life, dealing with a wealthy easterner who goes west on a pleasure trip, but gets in so bad that there is little pleasure to be had. The other picture is an Edison, "Sleep, Gentle Sleep." It is said to be an excellent picture, based on real life. Miss Blanche Wrennick will sing "When the Candle Lights Are Burning."

The Vaudet will present their regular two reels of pictures tonight, beginning with the American film, "A Pittsburg Millionaire." This picture is a drama based in the social life of America and portrays the facts to a realistic standpoint. The other is a Powers "The Pugilist's Child." It is a comedy dealing with the athletic relations of father to son. A new illustrated song will be sung.

The new Portola Photoplay theater will open Monday night. The theater has been beautifully decorated and in all respects is an up-to-date house. It will contain two hundred of the latest style opera chairs which for the present will be placed straight from the walls, but later will be arranged in an eight-inch circle, thus giving everyone a clear view of the screen. The front of the theater is very attractive, many electric lights being in evidence. The floor has been raised in the back and slopes gradually to the front. The theater will be under the management of Mrs. Ednah Schmidt West of Terre Haute who is well known here. In order that the patrons shall hear the latest songs sung in a manner that will be appreciated, the management has engaged G. E. Schmidt, a well known baritone, and Mrs. Cecil Swinder Robinson, a lady baritone. Wilbur Wrightman has been engaged as drummer and Miss Maude Schmidt as pianist. The singers and musicians will change about between the Rushville theater and the two New Castle houses. For the benefit of the patrons the management has installed a Western Union clock and the first show will start at 7 o'clock, and the other two at 8 and 9 o'clock except on Saturdays. Souvenirs will be given on the opening night.

YESTERDAY, RECORD DAY

More Business Transacted in Recorder's Office Than Ever Before.

Yesterday was a record breaker in the recorder's office, more business being done than has ever been transacted since Clell Maple has been recorder. Thirty-five instruments were taken care of and today gave promise of being as great as yesterday. The rush of business is largely due to the fact that people generally misunderstood a law which was passed by the last legislature, providing that only three days time is allowed for the filing of deeds and mortgages, instead of forty-five which was previously the case.

A Rescue and an Escape.

Miss Thorne's voice startled Mr. Grimm a little, but he had no doubts. It was Monsieur Boissegur. Mr. Grimm was going toward the enfram figure when, without any apparent reason, the ambassador turned and ran along the hall; and at that instant the lights went out again. For one moment Grimm stood still, dazed and blinded by the sudden blackness, and again he started toward the door. Miss Thorne was beside him.

"The lights!" he whispered tensely. "Find the switch!"

He heard the rustle of her skirts as she moved away, and stepped out into the hall, feeling with both his hands along the wall. A few feet away, in the direction the ambassador had gone there seemed to be a violent struggle in progress—there was the scuffling of feet, and quick-drawn breaths as muscle strained against muscle. The lights! If he could only find the switch! Then, as his hands moved along the wall, they came in contact with another hand—a hand pressed firmly against the plastering, barring his progress. A light blow in the face caused him to step back quickly.

The scuffling sound suddenly resolved itself into moving footsteps, and the front door opened and closed with a bang. Mr. Grimm's listless eyes snapped, and his white teeth came together sharply as he started toward the front door. But fate seemed to be against him still. He stumbled over a chair, and his own suspect forward sent him sprawling; his head struck the wall with a resounding whack; and then, over the house, came utter silence. From outside he heard the clatter of a cab. Finally that died away in the distance.

"Miss Thorne?" he inquired quietly. "I'm here," she answered in a despairing voice. "But I can't find the switch."

"Are you hurt?"

"No."

And then she found the switch; the lights flared up. Mr. Grimm was sitting thoughtfully on the floor.

"That simplifies the matter considerably," he observed complacently, as he rose. "The men who signaled to me when you entered the embassy will never let that cab get out of their sight."

Miss Thorne stood leaning forward a little, eagerly gazing at him with those wonderful blue-gray eyes, and an expression of—of—perhaps it was admiration on her face.

"Are you sure?" she demanded, at last.

"I know it," was his response.

And just then Monsieur Rigolot, secretary of the embassy, thrust an inquisitive head timidly around the corner of the stairs. The crash of glass had aroused him.

"What happened?" he asked, breathlessly.

"We don't know just yet," replied Mr. Grimm. "If the noise aroused any one else please assure them that there's nothing the matter. And you might inform Madame Boissegur that the ambassador will return home tomorrow. Good night!"

At his hotel, when he reached there, Mr. Grimm found Miss Thorne's card—and he drew a long breath; at his office he found another of her cards, and he drew another long breath. He did like corroborative details, did Mr. Grimm, and, of course, this! On the following day Miss Thorne accompanied him to Alexandria, and they were driven in a closed carriage out toward the western edge is physical strength and bodily health. The bread winner can not afford to give out.

It is a vital necessity that he keep his nervous and muscular system in good condition to withstand the daily wear and tear of life.

Those who are run-down, weakened or nervous should remember that nothing excels Vinol, which is a combination of the medicinal elements of the cod's liver and tonic iron, to strengthen the digestive organs, create an appetite, make new blood and restore strength.

Prof. James Mitchell of Jasper, Ont., says his system was run-down to a critical point from overwork. A friend told him to take Vinol. He did so and is now enjoying perfect health and he considers Vinol a wonderful tonic. (We guarantee this testimonial to be genuine.)

group automaniacs of which Mr. Cadwallader was the enthusiastic center. He spoke to his hostess, the wife of the minister from Portugal, for a moment, then went to Miss Thorne and dropped into a seat beside her. She greeted him with a smile and was still smiling as she talked.

"I believe, Monsieur," she said in French, "you sent a code message to the cable office this afternoon?"

His eyes questioned hers quickly. "And please bear in mind that we probably are being watched as we talk," she went on pleasantly. "Mr. Grimm is the man to be afraid of. Smile—don't look so serious!" She laughed outright.

"Yes, I sent a code message," he replied.

"It was your resignation?"

"Yes."

"Well, it wasn't sent, of course," she informed him, and her eyes were sparkling as if something amusing had been said. "One of my agents stopped it. I may add that it will not be sent." The ambassador's eyes grew steely, then blank again.

"Mademoiselle, what am I to understand from that?" he demanded.

"You are to understand that I am absolute master of the situation in Washington at this moment," she replied positively. The smile on her lips and the tone of her voice were strangely at variance. "From the beginning I let you understand that ultimately you would receive your instructions from Paris; now I know they will reach you by cable tomorrow. Within a week the compact will be signed. Whether you approve of it or not it will be signed for your country by a special envoy whose authority is greater than yours—his Highness, the Prince Benedetto d'Abuzzi."

"Has he reached Washington?"

"He is in Washington. He has been here for some time, incognito." She was silent a moment. "You have been a source of danger to our plans," she added. "If it had not been for an has played havoc with the tresses of the fair sex, and druggists everywhere comment on the fact that they are selling large quantities of sage for making the old-fashioned "sage tea," such as was used by our grandmothers for promoting the growth of their hair and restoring its natural color. The demand for this well-known herb for this purpose has been so great that one manufacturer has taken advantage of the fact, and has placed on the market an ideal "sage tea," containing sulphur, a valuable remedy for dandruff and scalp rashes and irritations. This preparation, which is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, is sold by all leading druggists for 50 cents and $1 a bottle, or will be sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price.

accident you would still have been comfortably kept out in Alexandria where Mr. Grimm and I found you. Please remember, Monsieur, that we will accomplish what we set out to do. Nothing can stop us—nothing."

At just about the same moment the name of Prince d'Abuzzi had been used in the dining-room, but in a different connection. Mr. Cadwallader was reciting some incident of an automobile trip in Italy when he had been connected with the British embassy there.

"The prince was driving," he said, "and one of the best I ever saw. Corking chap, the prince; democratic, you know, and all that sort of thing. He was one scion of royalty who didn't mind soiling his hands by diving in under a car and fixing it himself. At that time he was inclined to be wild—but they say now he has settled down to work, and is one of the real diplomatic powers of Italy. I haven't seen him for a half dozen years."

"How old a man is he?" asked Mr. Grimm carelessly.

"Thirty-five, thirty-eight, perhaps; I don't know," replied Mr. Cadwallader. "It's odd, you know, the number of princes and blue-bloods and all that sort of thing one can find knocking about in Italy and Germany and Spain. One never hears of half of them. I never had heard of the Prince d'Abuzzi until I went to Italy, and I've heard jolly well little of him since, except indirectly."

Mr. Cadwallader lapsed into silence as he sat staring at a large group photograph which was framed on a wall of the dining-room.

"Isn't that the royal family of Italy?" he asked. He rose and went over to it. "By Jove, it is, and here is the prince in the group. The picture was taken, I should say, about the time I knew him."

Mr. Grimm strolled over idly and stood for a long time staring at the photograph.

"He can drive a motor, you know," said Mr. Cadwallader, admiringly.

"And Italy is the place to drive them. They forget to make any speed laws over there, and if a chap gets in your way and you knock him silly they arrest him for obstructing traffic, you know. Over here if a chap really starts to go any place in a hurry some bally idiot holds him up."

"Have you ever been held up?" queried Mr. Grimm.

"No, but I expect to be every day," was the reply. "I've got a new motor, you know, and I've never been able to see how fast it is. The other evening I ran up to Baltimore with it in an hour and thirty-seven minutes from Alexandria to Druid Hill Park, and that's better than forty miles. I never did let the motor out, you know, because we ran in the dark most of the way."

Mr. Grimm was still gazing at the photograph.

"Did you go alone?" he asked.

"There's no fun motoring alone, you know. Senorita Rodriguez was with me. Charming girl, what?"

A little while later Mr. Grimm sauntered out into the drawing-room and made his way toward Miss Thorne and the French ambassador. Monsieur Boissegur rose, and offered his hand cordially.

"I hope, Monsieur," said Mr. Grimm, "that you are no worse off for your unpleasant experience?"

"Not at all, thanks to you," was the reply. "I have just thanked Miss Thorne for her part in the affair, and—"

"I'm glad to have been of service," interrupted Mr. Grimm lightly.

The ambassador bowed ceremoniously and moved away. Mr. Grimm dropped into the seat he had just left.

"You've left the legation, haven't you?" he asked.

"You drove me out," she laughed.

"Drove you out?" he repeated.

"Drove you out?"

"Why, it was not only uncomfortable, but it was rather conspicuous because of the constant espionage of your Mr. Blair and your Mr. Johnson and your Mr. Hastings," she explained, still laughing. "So I have moved to the Hotel Hilliard."

Mr. Grimm was twisting the seal ring on his little finger.

"I'm sorry if I made it uncomfortable for you," he apologized. "You see it's necessary to—"

"No explanation," Miss Thorne interrupted. "I understand."

"I'm glad you do," he replied seriously. "How long do you intend to remain in the city?"

"Really I don't know—two, three, four weeks, perhaps. Why?"

"I was just wondering."

Senorita Rodriguez came toward them.

"We're going to play bridge," she said, "and we need you, Isabel, to make the four. Come. I hate to take her away, Mr. Grimm."

Mr. Grimm and Miss Thorne rose together. For an instant her slim white hand rested on Mr. Grimm's sleeve and she stared into his eyes understandingly with a little of melancholy in her own. They left Mr. Grimm there.

BOLD KIDNAPPERS IN MAD RACE FOR LIFE

New Mexico Posse Threatens a Lynching.

East Las Vegas, N. M., April 1.—Waldo Rogers, two-year-old son of A. T. Rogers, Jr., a wealthy attorney of this city, was torn from the arms of his mother by two masked men at pistols' points in the dead of night, held by the abductors twenty-four hours, and then safely returned upon payment of $12,000 cash.

Threats of the abductors that they would kill the babe if any report was made to the authorities, kept back the news of the abduction until an hour after the child had been surrendered and the kidnappers had escaped with the ransom. Then the officers were notified. Immediately posses were made up and the country is being scoured by armed men. The bandits have been trailed to the Bad Lands near the Oklahoma line, and with the posses but eight hours behind them and bloodhounds following the trail, capture seems certain. It is believed the kidnappers, who are four in number, will be lynched if taken.

The stolen child is a grandson of Judge Henry L. Waldo, the Kansas City millionaire, who is on his way here in a special train. He has offered $10,000 reward for their capture, while the territory and citizens have increased the reward to $20,000.

"BEATRIX FAIRFAX" DEAD

Annie Winnifred Scatcherd Didn't Survive Surgical Operation.

London, Ont., April 1.—The ashes of Annie Winnifred Scatcherd, known internationally as "Beatrice Fairfax," repose in a cemetery of London, her native city. Tuesday she died suddenly in New York city after a minor operation. Fulfilling a request expressed before she was taken to a hospital, her body was cremated. It was said that her friends in New York did not learn of her death until after the funeral.

Miss Scatcherd showed an aptitude toward writing after being educated in Canadian colleges. Her name was among the best known among women journalists. Frequently Miss Scatcherd returned to London, but she always provided "copy" for New York while here. Recently she returned for a few days and was in splendid health. The announcement of her death was a sudden shock to the family and friends with whom she was identified.

Back to the Mines.

Indianapolis, April 1.—Thomas L. Lewis, who today relinquished his position as president of the United Mine Workers of America, has left the headquarters in Indianapolis for his home in Bridgeport, O., and on Monday will take a place as miner in the Wheeling Creek mines of the Lorain Coal and Dock company.

Caught Between Cars.

Indianapolis, April 1.—William J. Lewis, an air brake inspector employed by the Pennsylvania lines, was fatally hurt in the railroad yards at Dearborn street. Lewis was crushed between two cars and died on the way to the hospital.

Why He Stopped.

They had been engaged only a week. He had kissed her fully forty times that evening. When he stopped the tears came into her eyes, and she said: "Dearest, you have ceased to love me."

"No, I haven't," he replied, "but I must breathe."—Ladies' Home Journal.

Our Ten Commandments.

Rule 1. Don't Lie—it wastes our time and yours. We'll sure find out in the end. Buy a Ford Car and you won't have to lie about your tire expense.

Rule 2. Do not Steal an automobile when you can buy a Model T Ford Tiring Car for $780. It's cheaper to buy.

Rule 3. "Don't buy a Ford Car because it is cheap, but because it is the best." Henry Ford.

Rule 4. Ford Cars have proven themselves to wear better than any of them, because of the superior workmanship and material used in their construction. "Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor."

Rule 5. Vanadium steel is used in all axles and spindles, crankshaft and springs, is heat treated and does not crystallize. Wheels will not drop off when given the last strain. Remember the injunction, "Thou shalt not kill."

Rule 6. Henry Ford has led us out of the land of the wilderness as it were—out of the land of bondage of the Selden Patent and demonstrated that he is no false leader. Follow him and use Ford Cars.

Rule 7. When you talk Ford Automobile, put a four cylinder, four cylinder, twenty horse power Ford engine into your talk and take off the muffler. It will do the work, fear not.

Rule 8. Covet not anything which is thy neighbors, but go and buy a Ford Car and enjoy life as he does.

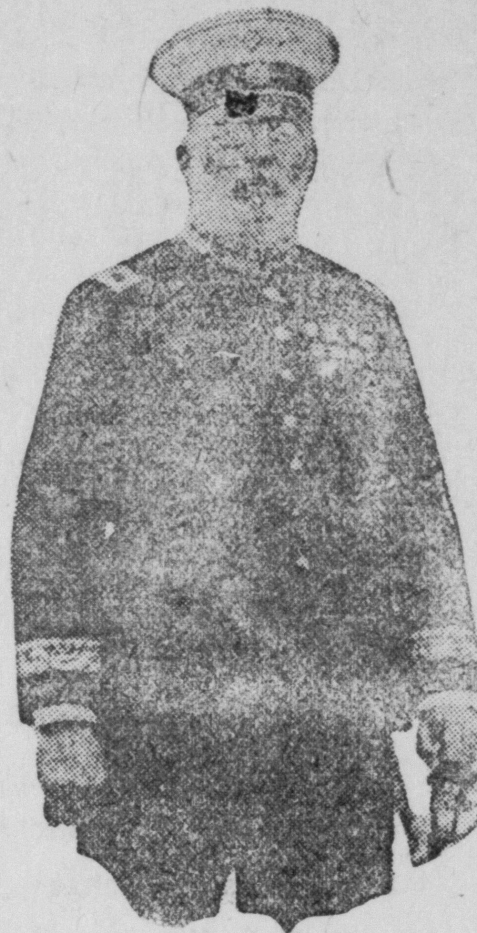

Rule 9. Neither a borrower nor a lender be. Own a Ford Car and be happy in the land which the Lord, thy God giveth thee.

Rule 10. Buy a Ford Car so that your troubles may cease and your days be long upon the earth.

BESIEGED TOWN IN IT'S FINAL STRUGGLE

Ojinaga Can't Hold Out Much Longer.

Alpine, Tex., April 1.—Ojinaga, the little town on the Rio Grande that Mexico has forgotten, is passing through its last bitter straits. Thirteen hundred insurgents have begun a final assault upon the 300 defenders behind the adobe walls of the town, and before many hours the long siege that Ojinaga has withstood, forsaken and forgotten, must end in capitulation. For over three weeks Ojinaga has been shut up by the encircling breastworks of the insurgents. Not a soul has passed out of the town; not a pound of food has gone in through the close lines of the besiegers. Though a strong federal garrison has been stationed in Juarez, 100 miles away, no effort has been made to send a relieving force to the help of Ojinaga. The town has starved and fought for three weeks, and today it is fighting desperately with the end in sight.

There were nearly 500 men in Ojinaga when the insurgents suddenly swooped down from the west and cut off the place from all communication from the outside world. Fully 200 of the garrison have sneaked over to the insurgents during the three weeks of the siege, and none but the bravest of the garrison remains to fight out the final battle now. A company of Third cavalry, doing patrol duty, is established at Presidio, just across the river from Ojinaga.

Refuses to Be Dismissed.

Terre Haute, Ind., April 1.—Mayor Gerhardt has notified Don Roberts, city engineer, that his services as such are at an end, but Don just laughed at him. The mayor has prepared a communication to the council in which he says Roberts was insubordinate. Roberts will contest the mayor's right to remove him without preferring charges and giving hearing.

FIGHT ON IN NEW MEXICO

Rush County People in Pecos Valley

Are Compelled to go to War
With Frost.

ABOUT $500,000 AT STAKE

Large Orchards Must be Protected and Unique Plan is Evolved to do It.

BY CLAUDE SIMPSON.

There is a fight on! Down in the peaceful Pecos Valley of New Mexico, where the days of Billy the Kid are mere memories there is a fight. The quarrels of the cattle and sheep men, the gun play of cow punchers, over a friendly game of poker, the battles between outlaws and posers—all these peaceful pastimes have been replaced by war!

This was is earnest, this war is serious, and in it are a number of former Rush county people. It is a war on Jack Frost. There is in the neighborhood of $500,000 at stake, so do you wonder that it is serious? The orchardists there have arranged to smudge their apple trees if it is necessary and every man and boy of Roswell, has agreed to help if it is necessary.

Occasionally in the Pecos Valley the frost sneaks up at the wrong time and the result is that an apple crop is completely wiped out. This is not a common occurrence—but it is the rare occasion that the people are fighting this year. It has been demonstrated that orchards can be successfully smudged and temperatures as low as 20 degrees overcome even in the fertilizing period. This work can be done at comparatively low cost, and the Pecos Valley of New Mexico is availing itself of the opportunity for the first time this year.

Two-gallon pots are placed at each tree in the orchards. They are so arranged that the heat will not damage the trees and yet will be sufficient to raise the temperature above the freezing point. The pots are filled with crude oil, and gasoline lighters are attached so that there will be no delay in igniting the oil.

As a rule the orchardists have several tested thermometers in an orchard. They also have an electric thermometer which they set at thirty-five. Then when the temperature goes to thirty-five the alarm is sounded and the fruit men get up. If the mercury is dropping fast he probably starts to lighting the pots in order to get the last ones going before the mercury gets too low. Sometimes he finds that the mercury is not falling and he can feel safe without lighting the pots.

That the orchardist must be somewhat of a botanist is proved by the fact that the apple trees will stand a temperature of 4 degrees below freezing at times, and again one degree of frost will wipe out a crop. There is a twenty-four hour period—known as the fertilizing period—when the greatest care is exercised. One degree of frost then will be fatal.

But back to the war proper. This war has magnitude. Not alone are the orchardists concerned, but the whole valley is fighting frost. Volunteer brigades have been organized in Roswell and about thirty automobiles will carry volunteers to the various orchards to assist in lighting the smudge pots if they are needed. These volunteers have been assigned to automobiles, the automobiles have been assigned to the orchards, and meeting places have been arranged so that there will be no confusion when delay means dollars. The city fire whistles will give the alarm, and ministers, merchants, lawyers' doctors and day laborers will turn out to do battle with the frost.

The indications are that smudging will not be necessary. Never was the prospect for a mammoth fruit crop better. If the frost does come, the fruit men are ready for it and the crop will be saved. But the magnitude of the preparations gives some idea of what the apple crop means to the valley. But then—a half million dollars return off of 3000 acres of bearing apple trees would mean something to any community.
